

Published on New Brunswick Health Research Foundation (<https://nbhrf.com>)

---

Health Research Week

NBHRF's 2021 Health Research Week will be held in November

Health Research Week is an on site and/or virtual conference featuring panel discussions amongst distinguished researchers, student poster presentation competitions, and the health researcher(s) of the year award ceremony.

Health Research Week 2021 Call for Planning Committee Members:

Plans are underway for Health Research Week 2021 to be held November 15 through to November 19, 2021. Plans include three days of online webinars followed by a two day in-person conference in Moncton.

NBHRF is seeking 8-10 volunteers to assist in developing the program for Health Research Week 2021. Working with the Committee Chair and staff of NBHRF, the members will review and provide comments on poster submissions, assist in identifying keynote speakers, and help shape the events, themes and webinars for the conference. Please send an email highlighting interest and relevant qualifications by March 31st to .

---

For more information please contact:

Thank you!

---

Source URL (modified on 2021-03-02 14:29): <https://nbhrf.com/en/health-research-week>